WHY IS MILITARY EDUCATION NEEDED?

ADOPTING A MILITARY MODEL PERMITS SCHOOLS TO USE A HOLISTIC APPROACH TO STUDENT DEVELOPMENT.

BY EDUCATING THE WHOLE PERSON, A MILITARY SCHOOL EDUCATION REACHES STUDENT'S MINDS, BODIES AND SOULS, ALLOWING THEM TO REACH THEIR ACADEMIC, PHYSICAL AND MORAL POTENTIAL.

HEALTHY, ACTIVE LIVING

A military lifestyle also prioritizes healthy physical activity. The daily routine offers students a disciplined template for wellness, self-care, and hygiene.

Extracurricular activities are plentiful, including various clubs, sports teams and outdoor activities. Every cadet at the Academy engages in a regimented fitness training and testing program to assess, monitor and improve physical well-being.

The goal is create lifelong habits emphasizing wellness, physical activity, and healthy lifestyle.

PREPARATION FOR THE FUTURE

Most students who attend military-style schools do not pursue a career in the armed forces. Instead, the education they receive provides them with lifelong transferable values such as self-discipline, accountability, responsibility, citizenship and commitment.

A CHARACTER-BUILDING EXPERIENCE

Finally, student citizenship is emphasized at military academies as students are challenged to develop their moral character. A central, ever-present theme in a military atmosphere is teamwork.

Through the experience, students develop resilience, strength of character, and a strong work ethic. Incentives built into the military model reinforce student success, and leadership opportunities exist for highly-motivated students.
